SIXTH ANNUAL H.S. TRACK MEET

Contests to be Held at Maryville Normal, April 23 and 24 — Increasing Interest Evident.

The Missouri Inter-High School Association will have its sixth annual meeting on the Maryville Normal track April 23 and 24. The meet will consist, as usual, of declamatory, essay and athletic contests. It is usually held on the last Saturday in April. Previous years it has been attended by over thirty-five schools, but this year many new inquiries from other schools have been received indicating the interest is increasing, and that other schools want to be taken into the association.

Each school is entitled to be represented by not over twelve (12) men, but any one can not enter over five (5) events.

The High Schools are divided into three classes, according to the enrollment. Class A, five hundred or over; Class B one hundred to five hundred; Class C, under one hundred. Each class is given a championship cup, the team scoring the highest number of points being winner. In addition to this cup, individual medals of gold, silver, bronze and ribbon are given for first, second, third and fourth places, respectively.

The Declamatory contest is open to one girl and one boy from each school, their selections to be chosen from the list which may be found in another column. Gold, silver and bronze medals are given.

The Essay contest is open to one student from each school. Three copies of the essay must be submitted unsigned, accompanied by an envelope containing the writer's name. The essays and envelopes are numbered, and essays are sent to three judges. The essay scoring the highest average grade is proclaimed the winner. The announcement of the winner will be made at the oratorical contest, and prizes will then be awarded.

It is the purpose of these contests to stimulate in the students in the High Schools a literary appreciation, and an ability to express themselves credibly before an audience. All teachers in High Schools are urged to send representatives to both the Baseball Twirling Begins.

The Normal is to have a winning baseball team. Those who are competent to predict say that with our material, together with our splendid coach, we are bound to win honors on the diamond this year. Coach Hanson believes the material in view is exceptionally good. A most important acquisition to the athletics of the school is "Lonnie" Adams, who enrolled at the beginning of the quarter. Adams is a brother of "Babe" Adams, a baseball star of the first magnitude, who is playing with the Pittsburgh Nationals. "Lonnie" Adams has been instructed in the twirling art by his brother, and it is certainly fortunate for our team that he has entered here. With Adams and "Big Chief" Ham, as the pitchers, we are well fortified in that respect. Eugene Bird, who played third on the team last year, will be back in April, when his school at Unity closes. Marion Dyer, the first baseman, who is teaching at Agency, and E. R. Adams, last year's captain, who is now teaching at McFall, will both be with us when their schools close. Earl Brittain is in school this quarter, and is ready to take his place as center fielder. M. F. Wogan, of Easton, will be with us soon, and is anxious to get back to playing the game. Bragdon, who played on the Kirksville team last season, is intending to enroll here. He has been here before, and we know what he can do. Howard Leech and Lee Scarlett of basket ball fame, are among the recruits. They are surely in fine condition and will add strength to our forces. Wiles, Woken and Durham, are also going to try for a place on the team. Several others are intending to join in the try-out.

A schedule for the season as arranged to date is as follows:

April 23—With Missouri Wesleyan at Maryville.

April 30—With William Jewell at Maryville.

May 7—With Tarkio at Tarkio.

May 13—With Missouri Wesleyan at Cameron.

May 14—With William Jewell at Liberty.

May 28—With Tarkio at Maryville.

An attempt is being made to schedule two games with Kirksville, one to be held at Maryville on May 21 and one at Kirksville, June 4.

N. E. A. Meeting—Cincinnati, Ohio.

Miss Beulah Brunner, principal of the Training School, represented the Fifth District Normal at the National Education Association meeting in Cincinnati, held from February 22 to 26.

Miss Brunner attended the departmental meetings for superintendents and the meeting of the National Society for the Study of Education. Some of the most significant features noted were the attention given to the elementary grades, the introduction of more vital problems into the curriculum, the elimination of obsolete or outworn matter to economize time, the scientific survey, the position of the Normal School as a factor in the training of teachers, and the training provided for teachers while they are in service.

Bruce R. Payne, President of the George Peabody College for Teachers paid a tribute to the Normal Schools. He said they have had more to do with the breaking away from traditions, and from the adherence to a set curriculum, than have other institutions. Furthermore, he said they are more nearly a social institution than are other types of schools. This was illustrated by their adoption into their curricula, of such subjects as home economics, agriculture and manual training. The strength of the Normal Schools, according to Mr. Payne, is due to their truly vocational character. The Normal Schools, as Mr. Payne stated, demand a general education. They demand that more subject matter be given in the special subjects and require a special training in the technique of teaching. Mr. Payne said, "There is no good Normal School in this good day that does not have a highly trained teaching force." The Normal school graduate, Mr. Payne says, may not know as many things as the college man, but he knows more of the things he wants to know.

Ex-President Taft, now Kent Professor of Law in Yale, delivered a lecture on "A National Standard." He said the United States Bureau of Education might take the form of a university for the certification of teachers.

Mr. Taft compared the county superintendent to a non-commissioned officer. He said it is his duty to keep up his teachers in the same way that the officer keeps up his men. It is Mr. Taft's opinion that teaching should be made more of a profession.

THE DRURY FIVE WINS PENNANT

Maryville Tied With Drury For First Place 'Till Game With William
Jewell Was Finished.

The Normal boys played the last two basket ball games of the season, February 25 and 26, with Missouri Wesleyan and William Jewell on the enemy's courts, losing the championship by only one game. A tie with Drury College for the championship was the result of the first game, but William Jewell won the last, thus placing Maryville fourth on the list.

The victory over the Missouri Wesleyans was gained by Fred Vandersloot, one of the Normal's star players. The teams tied 21 to 21 near the close of the game and three free throws made by "Van," put the score in our favor. The game was reported to be a "thriller," being fast and rough. Maryville took and kept the lead during the first half. The score stood 7 to 5 at the end of that time in favor of the locals. Leech and McClintock were the Maryville stars, Leech making six field goals. Wesleyan's star was Freeman, forward. The members of the Maryville team making the trip were Vandersloot, Leech, Scarlett, Scott, McClintock, Woodward, Ham and Quinn. The whole force was used in the game.

The report from the game with the William Jewell quintet is that the Maryville boys gave them the closest race for honors of any team that has played on the Liberty court in the last two seasons. The enemy led throughout the game, but within three minutes of the close they were only five points ahead, then they made a dash and succeeded in landing three field goals from the center of the court. The score stood 34-21 in favor of William Jewell.

Vandersloot and Leech, the Maryville forwards, made all the scores for their team in the whirlwind game. Each made four field goals. "Pig-iron" McClintock, our stone-wall guard, also played a star game. The two substitutes, Woodward and Quinn, aided in the playing.

The record for this season has placed the Maryville Normal quite high in the list. This is the first time this school has had a chance at the championship. The boys feel that Coach Walter Hanson deserves a high degree of credit. Mr. Hanson was formerly of Benton High School, of St. Joseph.

STANDARD OF EFFICIENCY AMONG THE STUDENTS

To be eligible to examination and qualification for a certain well known scholarship the following characteristics of the student are considered:

(1) His literary and scholastic attainments; (2) His fondness for and success in manly out-door sports; (3) His qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy for and protection of the weak, kindness, usefulness and fellowship; (4) His exhibition during school days of moral force of character and of instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates.

Various schools have different standards of student efficiency. Broadly considered the aforementioned are required in some degree at least, by the majority of modern schools. Our's is no exception. There is always sufficient opportunity presented to the wide-awake student, by which he may exercise or display these traits.

We believe that the student's success is in a large measure determined by the attitude which he assumes toward his daily work. A slothful student does not long escape detection by the instructor. Likewise the industrious one soon gains the recognition which his work merits. But loyalty to recitations can be carried to extremes, for those whose minds are centered upon this phase alone, are in danger of missing the greater training which school life affords.

Then it is imperative that each student should be an active participant in the various organizations of the school. The Literary Societies, Christian Organizations and Class Connections are the mediums, through which, literary attainments, qualities of manhood, fellowship and leadership best find expression. It is here that the student receives the training and stimulus which the class room cannot give.

In the modern arrangement of affairs athletics play a large part in the life of the student. All cannot be stars, on the diamond, football field, or basket ball court. This privilege is reserved to some few. But all can manifest an interest in the contest, thereby adding life to them and inspiring the home team.

Lastly, we do not believe that the students' life should be one of drudgery, as some seem inclined to make it, but should be a happy medium, between extreme seriousness on the one hand and extreme frivolity on the other. Nor should it be concerned with self-happiness alone, but interested in the welfare of others. It should at all times display those moral qualities and spirit of friendship, which are certain to bring good results, and are certain of establishing a higher standard of student efficiency.

Change in Editorial Staff.

Miss Edythe Moore, an associate editor on the "Green and White Courier" staff, left for her home in Clarksale, Mo., at the close of the winter term. The staff feels that they have lost a valuable member. William Utter, a member of the Philomathean Literary Society, was elected to take Miss Moore's place.

The committee intend to run both the preliminaries and finals in the afternoon, as the morning will be given over largely to conferences and meetings between principals superintendents and the teachers of the district. The officers of the association for this year are: F. C. Touton, Central High School, St. Joseph, president; J. C. Godby, Tarkio, vice-president; A. A. Ross, Platte City, secretary; W. M. Westbrook, Maryville, treasurer; H. P. Swinehart, Maryville Normal, corresponding secretary.

There will be no change in the rules this year, but a committee met in St. Joseph Saturday, March 6, to confer concerning changes to be suggested to the executive committee at its annual meeting, April 3. These changes, if any, will be embodied in the 1916 meet.

Y. M. C. A. Elects Officers.

The Y. M. C. A. elected their officers for the coming year, Tuesday, March 1. They are: President, Earl C. Borchers; Vice-President, William Utter; Secretary, Ralph Palmer; Treasurer, Herschel Wiles.

This has been the banner year of the Y. M. C. A. The retiring administration took charge of the association at a time when it was badly demoralized. The year started without funds. Now all bills have been met and a slight surplus remains in the treasury. Delegates have been sent to three conventions within the year. The first of these was the State Y. M. C. A. convention held from February 13 to 15 at Sedalia. The second was the Officer's Training conference and the Missouri and Kansas Life-work conference held April 9 to 12 in Kansas City. The Maryville association received there the banner for distance traveled and size of association. The last was the Lake Geneva conference, June 12 to 21. The accomplishment of these things has been due to the efficient management of the cabinet, led by Lowell L. Livengood, President.

H. B. Schuler.

H. B. Schuler, who heretofore has divided his work between the Normal and the Conservatory of Music, is now giving his full time to the Normal. This has caused rejoicing among all the students, especially those interested in music. Prof Schuler's work is so full of enthusiasm, that the musical life of the school will undoubtedly experience a revival.

Graduate Weds.

Miss Bess Porter, a member of last year's graduating class, was married Saturday, February 27, to E. Gordon Bennett, a farmer living near Skidmore. Miss Porter is the third one of the class to marry.

"ACRES OF DIAMONDS"

"He most lives, who thinks most, who feels the noblest, and who acts the best," is the supreme thought left by Dr. Russell H. Conwell to the people who heard him February 23, on "Acres of Diamonds," which he delivered at the Maryville Main Street Methodist church.

The proceeds from this lecture, Dr. Conwell turned over to a young man who is attending Oberlin College. This lecture numbers two hundred twenty-nine for this year and the same number of young men have received the revenue from them. Dr. Conwell told his audience that although he had been lecturing for fifty-five years he felt more anxious than ever to accomplish a great good.

"Acres of Diamonds" originated in a story told to Dr. Conwell by his guide while he was traveling with a party of folk down the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. The story was of the man who owned the tract of land where later was discovered the great diamond mine of Golconda. This man was contented and wealthy until a wise man from the east came and told him of the great diamonds in the world, and the power he might gain by possessing them. He became discontented, sold his land, collected the money, and traveled afar in search of those diamonds. In the meantime, on the old farm, was found a black stone which proved to be a diamond. A search was made for more and thus was discovered the Golconda diamond mines. The former owner spent all he had and found no diamonds either, while, as the Turkish guide said, "If he had been satisfied, he would have had acres of diamonds."

Similar instances were cited in which the opportunity at hand had been disregarded.

"The man who sees a need and heroically applies himself to supply that need," is the man worth while, according to Dr. Conwell. Other outstanding statements made are "It is a disgrace to be poor," but "when one gets money that he has not grown into he gets a curse." "Greatness consists in great deeds in the humble life," and, "Love is the grandest thing on this earth."

Misses Francyl Rickenbrode and Vivian Seat, president and vice-president of the Y. W. C. A. for the past year, entertained the other cabinet members near the close of the winter quarter with a theatre party followed by a luncheon at Reuillard's. The guests present were Misses Ora Quinn, Lulu Attrill, Lillie Hall, Myrtle Hogue, Ruth Harrington and Katherine Helwig.

Chloe Compton, who graduated from the Normal at the end of the winter quarter, left Saturday, February 27, for Sioux City, Iowa, to finish out a fourteen week's term of school. She is teaching the fourth grade there.

of the out door diamond, the boys will play in the gymnasium. The regulation game will be played as nearly as practicable.

Now, students of the Normal, let's get together and boost for baseball. The basket ball season is over, so let's transfer the spirit which it aroused to the cause of baseball. If we give the team our loyal support Maryville will be leading the race at the end of the season.

Training School Aids Belgians.

The fifth and sixth grades of the Training School wrapped and addressed on February 18, a package of Red Cross nightingales for the convalescent Belgian soldiers. The making of these garments and the wrapping and addressing of the package was all done under the direction of Miss Myra Hull, assistant in the Home Economics Department.

Miss Mattie Dykes acted as supply teacher in the B Seventh Grade in the Maryville Central School from March 1 to 5, inclusive, for Miss Nelle Hudson, who has been ill.

Annual Eureka Banquet.

The Eureka Literary Society held its annual banquet at the Linville Hotel, February 16. It was a three-course affair. The tables were neatly arranged, and carnations were the predominant flowers.

After the third course, the remaining time was given to after dinner speeches. These were as follows:

"Our Society".....Silas Skelton
"Man's Ideal".....Beatrix Winn
"Woman's Ideal".....Eugene Bird
"Ambitions".....Maye Growney
"Brevity".....Chloe Compton
Reading—"Jim and Me".....Harry A. Miller
"Reminiscences".....Lowell L. Livengood
Reading of "Letters from Former Eurekaans".....Miriam Bleek

Miss Harriet Van Buren acted as toastmistress. About thirty-four Eurekaans attended. All were greatly pleased, and have already had visions of a greater banquet in 1916. As a fitting close, the society led by Miss Blanche Criswell, sang "Auld Lang Syne."

The members of the Y. W. C. A., held a luncheon Wednesday noon, February 17. Forty-five members were present. The refreshment committee were Villa Waller, Louise Rowlett and Eula Snowberger.

Kirby Taylor, son of former President H. K. Taylor, of the Normal, visited our school, Wednesday, February 24. He was on his way to Dallas, Texas, from Greensburg, Pennsylvania, where he has been in the shoe business with his brother. Mr. Taylor has a new position in Dallas.

Her Teaching Merits Praise.

The Tarkio Avalanche tells of the progress of the Horner School in Atchison county. This school stands on the approved list. New playground equipment has recently been purchased and a new fence is being built around the yard. There is talk also, of installing a new heating plant. The Avalanche says the teacher, Miss Jane Salmond, a member of the 1914 Normal graduating class, is an efficient manager.

The Philomathean Literary Society gave the following program in assembly on Monday, February 22:
Music.....Miss Ada Mae Brown

MARYVILLE'S LIVE JEWELERS

Harvey Watson, a member of this year's graduating class secured a position as Manual Training instructor and Athletic Coach in the Maryville High School, which was left vacant by Prof. Polson, who goes to Kirksville Normal to take up special work there. Mr. Watson has taken special work in Manual Training here and has had experience in coaching the Training School basket ball team this winter.

The High School boys are now training for the Track Meet which will be held here April 23 and 24.

The Philomathean Literary Society had a combined bob-ride and party Saturday night. They met at the public library at 7:30 o'clock and went from there to Miss Gladys Holt's home, where half of the party played games and the others took a three-quarter of an hour ride, then the other groups went sleighing. For particulars concerning the rides, ask Miss Winn or Miss Hughes, the chaperones. They can give a full account. After both groups had 'sleighed,' they played "Philos," a game originated by one of the members. (Don't ask what it is—it is a secret). One of the chief novelties was the inaudible "Plutonian" choir.

A three-course luncheon was served, consisting of tomato soup, cream-ed butter beans, lettuce and meat sandwiches, olives, pickles and cocoa, fruit salad, whipped cream and cake.

Practice for Inter-Collegiate Meet.

Last Thursday was the first meeting of the Normal track team. There were about ten men present, however several others are expected by Mr. Swinehart. They are preparing for the Inter-Collegiate Meet to be held at Springfield, some time in May. Mr. Swinehart is well pleased with the prospects, and is expecting to send several good men.

Manual Training a Novel Subject.

Eugene Bird, a former student, now teaching the Unity school, near Hopkins, Mo., in a letter to a friend, vividly describes the value of manual training in the rural school. He has had a very interesting experience in introducing this novel subject. The story which is best told in his own words, is in part as follows:

"To start with, the extent of my equipment for manual training consisted of eight boys from thirteen to seventeen years of age. We brought some planks from home, got some boards off the road and found some around the school, and with these we built a large bench in the hall of the building. The bench is large enough for two or three to work on at one time.

"We had a box social early in the fall and realized a profit of about thirty-four dollars, fifteen of which we spent for tools. We have a complete set of tools including a pair of small three-inch clamps and a pair of extension clamps. We also purchased materials for finishing the articles of furniture which we made.

"We have made several pieces of useful as well as artistic articles of furniture. The first things the boys made were two flower benches. The kind of timber used was cypress and white pine. Then they made some plate racks. These were made of quarter-sawed oak. At the present time they are working on a magazine stand of oak, a tabourette of cypress, a plate rack, and a necktie holder.

"The boys who are doing the work are the best students in their grades. Some of the girls have expressed a desire to work also, but they are braiding raffia and weaving little rugs, the frames for which were made by the boys in manual training.

"The people of the district are interested in the work and many have expressed the opinion that benchwork in the rural schools is a good thing. We aim to have a piece of work in every home in the district."

Mr. Bird says that manual training, viewed from the teacher's standpoint is decidedly an improvement for the rural schools. He says it makes the school life more interesting, and the noise of the saw and hammer is not at all irritating but is a relief from the ordinary drone of the school room.

Junior Spread for Team.

On the evening of Wednesday, March 3, the Junior class held a spread in honor of the basket ball team. J. Pluvius, or whoever it is who regulates the weather, has evidently gotten the idea that social occasions and bad weather are synonymous terms, so he caused it to snow. But in spite of bad weather the Juniors were out in full force. Several good games were played during the evening, and if anyone came with a "grouchy" feeling he surely lost it before time for the "eats." Several members of the faculty were present and helped to lend informality to the occasion. The spread was served cafeteria style. That proper dignity might be preserved while eating, everyone sat on the floor, which had been covered with rugs. The menu of the spread is not given here because of the intense feeling of hunger which it would give to the reader. As the festivities were brought to a close everyone seemed agreed that the Juniors had shown a substantial appreciation for the splendid work which our boys have done during the past season.

The Y. W. C. A. has begun the spring quarter with two well attended meetings. Harry A. Miller, Head of the Reading and Public Speaking Department, talked to the girls March 2 and Miss Beulah Brunner, who recently returned from the Cincinnati convention, told the young ladies of the higher rank that women have gained in the educational world within the last two years and of the responsibility that rests on young women today because of this recognition. She also told the girls of the high compliment paid to the late Miss Grace H. Dodge, at the convention because of the time, love and wealth she gave to Teacher's College in New York City.

New Literary Officers.

The new officers of the two literary societies took up their duties for the spring term, March 4.

The Philomathean officers are:—President, Ray McPherron; Vice-President, Miss Ivah Barnes; Secretary, William Utter; Treasurer, Miss Alice Pemberton; Sergeant-at-arms, Miss Doris Callahan.

The new Eureka officers are:—President, Miss Jane Gladstone; Vice-President, Miss Mildred Garard; Secretary, Miss Mary Wallace; Treasurer, Miss Gladys Criswell; Sergeant-at-arms, Miss Edith Skidmore.
